According to the Immigration Division of the Brazilian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, U.S. citizens who want to come to Brazil as tourists need an entrance visa (retrieved from: <http://www.portalc onsular.mre.gov.br/estrangeiros/qgrv-simples-ing-26.10.2015.pdf>).

Think of a hypothetical situation in which Brazilian visa regulations have changed and, as clerk of the Consulate General of Brazil in Washington, you are asked to write a brief announcement in English (minimum of 6 lines ■ maximum of 10 lines) informing the public about these changes, where and how to apply for a visa. Titles will count as one line.
